Overview

We want to hear your views on our proposal to extend an existing Public Spaces Protection Order in Aylesbury Town Centre.

We have a key role to play in helping make local places safe to live, visit and work in. Tackling anti-social behaviour continues to be a high priority for us and our partners.

Public Spaces Protection Orders are aimed at ensuring public spaces can be enjoyed free from anti-social behaviour. They provide us with legal powers to deal with a particular nuisance or problem in a defined area.

It is key that we address and reduce these issues from occurring, by consulting with members of the public and other key stakeholders.

We want to hear from residents and organisations in Aylesbury Town Centre as well as those who visit the area.

What is a PSPO?

Public Spaces Protection Orders (PSPOs) are intended to deal with a particular nuisance or problem in a specific area that is detrimental to the local community's quality of life. This is achieved by imposing conditions on the use of that area, which apply to everyone.

Councils can use PSPOs to prohibit specified activities, and / or require certain things to be done by people engaged in particular activities, within a defined public area.

A single PSPO can be used to target a range of different anti-social behaviour issues. A PSPO can last for up to three years, after which it must be reviewed.

What can PSPOs be used for?

PSPOs can be used to restrict a broad range of activities.

Under section 59 of the Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014, local authorities must be satisfied on reasonable grounds that the activity subject to an Order:

- has a detrimental effect on the quality of life of those in the locality (or it is likely that activities will take place and have such an effect)
- is (or is likely to be) persistent or continuing in nature
- is (or is likely to be) unreasonable
- justifies the restrictions being imposed.

How are PSPOs enforced?

Authorised officers from Buckinghamshire Council and the Police will be able to enforce the restrictions and requirements of a PSPO, which can include issuing Fixed Penalty Notices.

The Fixed Penalty Notice for a breach of a PSPO is £60 if paid within 10 days, and £100 if paid within 14 days.

Aylesbury Town Centre Public Spaces Protection Order (PSPO)

The Aylesbury Town Centre PSPO was introduced on 11 November 2016 to address anti-social behaviour in the public place.

The area of the PSPO is shown in the Map of Aylesbury Town Centre PSPO document.

The PSPO addresses the following types of anti-social behaviour:

- The consumption of alcohol and anti-social behaviour associated with the consumption of alcohol, taking place in the public place
- Public urination and defecation

- Aggressive or intimidating behaviour
- Dog fouling
- The unauthorised parking of motor vehicles on the public realm of Kingsbury and Market Square

Anyone continuing to carry out any of the above activities in the restricted area is committing an offence.

For full details and conditions of the Order, please see the Aylesbury Town Centre PSPO document.

The PSPO was extended for a further three years from 11 November 2019.

What we are proposing / consulting on

We are proposing to extend the Aylesbury Town Centre Public Spaces Protection Order for a further three years.

An extension is being proposed to prevent:

- Occurrence or re-occurrence of the activities identified in the Order, or
- An increase in the frequency or seriousness of the activities identified in the Order

If not extended, the Aylesbury Town Centre PSPO will expire on 10 November 2022.

We want to hear your views on how the PSPO is addressing anti-social behaviour in the area and whether you think the PSPO should be extended.
