Overview

We are proposing some changes to the Emerald Way cycle route along Rabans Lane, through Fairford Leys and into the Town Centre.

We want to encourage walking and cycling for sustainable travel between Waddesdon and Aylesbury by upgrading the existing Emerald Way cycle route along Rabans Lane, through Fairford Leys and into Aylesbury Town Centre.

To achieve these aims, we are proposing some changes and have been working on early designs. We would like to hear your views on our plans.

Background

The aims of this project are to:

- increase walking and cycling on the Emerald Way between Waddesdon and Aylesbury (connecting with Berryfields and Aylesbury Vale Parkway Railway Station)
- improve public health, reduce congestion, and provide air quality benefits associated with modal shift towards active travel.

The proposed changes to the Emerald Way cycle route are in-line with the vision of a Buckinghamshire Greenway running north to south right across the county from the Brackley borders to the Colne Valley.

Location of the proposal on Google Maps: Emerald Way area

The 'Buckinghamshire Greenway' is the flagship walking and cycling route stretching from Brackley to the Colne Valley, forming the north-south spine of Buckinghamshire's walking and cycling network that will connect with local active travel networks and links.

We have already extended the Waddesdon Greenway by building a walking and cycling route which connects the Roman Park in Berryfields with Gogh Road in Haydon Hill. The aspiration was always to extend the cycle route to Aylesbury Town Centre, and we are proposing to do this by making some changes to the existing Emerald Way cycle route to enhance its profile and greatly increase its popular use. This is also more in keeping with Aylesbury Garden Town aspirations.

We have been awarded £1.748 million from the Department for Transport's Active Travel Fund towards the proposed Emerald Way changes.

The proposals

We are proposing the following changes to Emerald Way to encourage walking and cycling in the area:

- Routing to include quieter roads
- Planting of additional trees and shrubs to create a welcoming and greener route
- Some footway widening
- Improved wayfinding signage as well as additional lining
- In some areas, works such as dropped kerbs will be required as well as improved and additional crossings
- A more attractive, traffic-free option to Fowler Road by routing through Somerville Park.

Description of proposals

- Existing footway to be resurfaced and widened to provide 3-metre-wide shared use footway and cycleway

Installation of Tiger crossings and road humps

The proposal includes the installation of three Tiger crossings and road humps. A Tiger crossing, otherwise known as a Parallel crossing, is a combined pedestrian and cycle crossing.

The location of each Tiger crossing and road hump are as follows:

1. Rabans Lane

The raised crossings will be located at a distance of 35 metres south-west of the Brunel Road junction with Rabans Lane.

2. Fowler Road

The raised crossing will be located at a distance of 72 metres south of the St Anne's Road junction with Fowler Road.

3. Fowler Road, Bracken Way junction

The raised crossings will be located at a distance of 5 metres south of the Bracken Way junction with Fowler Road.

Installing a Tiger crossing and road hump requires statutory consultation.
Therefore, this aspect of the proposal is separate to this consultation.
