Overview

We want to hear the views of local residents and organisations on the Neighbourhood Plan for Burnham.

In May 2018, the Parish of Burnham was designated a neighbourhood area by Buckinghamshire Council. This followed an application by Burnham Parish Council.

Burnham Parish Council has now completed a period of local community engagement on the Burnham Neighbourhood Plan and have submitted the final version to us.

The next stage of the process is for us, as the local authority, to carry out a public consultation on the submitted plan.

This is the final opportunity for local people to comment on the plan before it goes to independent examination.

The Burnham Neighbourhood Plan includes policies to shape local development to:

- introduce a design code
- identify a green and blue infrastructure network
- designate Local Green Spaces
- encourage urban greening
- improve and maintain the Sustainable Travel Network

- protect Local Community Uses and Village Centre uses
- encourage zero carbon buildings

What happens next

Following consultation, we will collate the responses and submit them to an independent examiner.

If the plan passes independent examination, the next stage is a local referendum to see whether it has community support.

If the neighbourhood plan is supported, we will adopt it as part of local planning policy to assess planning applications in the Neighbourhood Area.
